In 1990, Swofford, a young Marine sniper, went to Saudi Arabia with dreams of vaporizing Iraqi skulls into clouds of "pink mist." As he recounts in this aggressively uninspiring Gulf War memoir, his youthful bloodlust was never satisfied. After spending months cleaning sand out of his rifle_so feverish with murderous anticipation that he almost blows a buddy's head off after an argument_Swofford ends up merely a spectator of a lopsided battle waged with bombs, not bullets.
